Montgomery Elementary

Last week, MES celebrated its amazing counselor, Mrs. Peterson. She wears many hats at MES and does such a great job of making the students and staff feel important and appreciated. Mrs. Peterson always works hard to make MES the best place it can be, so it was her turn to feel how important she is to our school.

The library had fantastic helpers last week. Miss Ruth and Miss Hannah were busy all day helping Mrs. Barfield shelve books, read stories, and assist with Bluebonnet voting. Thank you to both girls for working so hard to help the library.

Congratulations to Madeley Ranch Elementary who was awarded $500 for the highest attendance at Saturday's IMPACT event hosted by the Junior League of The Woodlands.

Mrs. Hoffman's first grade class learned about the moon and created the moon phase is a sweet way using Oreo cookies. This was a yummy way to learn about the moon. After all that sweet fun they learned facts about groundhogs.

We love our WATCH D.O.G.S. on The Ranch!

Our teachers make sure they feel part of our family. From making 101 spots to reading in a small group, we love our dads of great students.

First grade students are creating "Dancing Cows" in art class to showcase their knowledge of the elements of art including shape, line, and color. These students report that the best part of this assignment is the chance to use water color pencils that will "turn into paint because art is like magic!"

Fun facts about Abraham Lincoln line the second grade hall in recognition of President's Day. Students loved learning that kindness and empathy are qualities of a good leader.

SCE students celebrated 100 days of school. Students and teachers dressed up like 100 year olds to celebrate the day. Students practiced counting to 100, made 100 Day snacks and did other theme related activities. What a fun way to celebrate 100 days of school!

Students in Dr. Meeker's social studies classes enjoyed an unusual review activity last week, the Super Bowl Test Review! Students were divided into two teams representing the Falcons and Patriots. As they answered questions correctly, their team moved the ball down the field. An incorrect answer resulted in a fumble and an opportunity for the other team to answer the question. If a student scored a touchdown for their team, they then got to kick for an extra point. Students were enthusiastic about the review and most scored well on their test the following day. In a foreshadowing of the real game, the Patriots won in five out of six classes.

They Rule the School

Recently, MIS had a change of administration. The winners of certain silent auction items served as administrators for the day. These students had the opportunity to shadow Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Wunderlich, and even Ms. Dottie. They were treated to lunch in the office, maintained security of the building, and even found time to prepare treats for the teachers during Valentine's week. These young people have a very bright future ahead of them.
