

MISD's Dyslexia Interventionist's Training

Texas does not have a certification requirement specific to teachers providing intervention to students identified with dyslexia. School districts must consider the needs of students and the qualification of teachers. It is important that teachers (general or special education) who provide instruction for students with dyslexia must have training in critical, evidence-based components , and delivery of dyslexia instruction.

Teachers must be trained by a regional education service center to utilize the program. They could also receive training from a trainer certified by Region 4 who is in good standing. MISD's Dyslexia Interventionists are trained by a regional education service center and/or are trained by the parent company's program trainer directly or MISD's program trainer.